If the basis on which we process your data is no longer relevant, then all personal data will be anonymized or securely deleted to ensure the privacy of all data subjects.

Any data being processed under the basis of the legitimate business purposes of the data controller is done so as the data controller (our Client) has a legitimate interest in using the processed data for either risk assessment or to evaluate a new method of risk assessment.

Critically due to the protection measures outlined below, and that the Coremetrix product is one designed to improve financial inclusion by overturning previous declines and improving access to credit the rights of the data controller do not override the rights of the data subject when processing this data.

If you disagree with this assessment, please contact the Data Protection Officer of the relevant Data Controller (outlined in Section 'Data Controllers' of this document) and refer to your Rights under Article 12.

Data protection by design and default

Coremetrix employs several measures to protect the personal data of those individuals who complete our Quizzes.

When a Client directs one of their Customers to take one of our Quizzes they assign a unique and randomized ID referred to as a PUID.

The PUID is the sole piece of data transferred to Coremetrix when an individual is directed to our Quiz.

The PUID is a pseudonymized ID and is used in place of other personal data.

All Quiz attempts are logged against the PUID. The Data Controller retains all other personal data.

Coremetrix store and process all Quiz attempts against the PUID. Scores produced by the statistical propensity models are returned to our Clients via a secure API connection against the PUID.

What data we collect from you:

We collect the minimal possible amount of Personal Data from you in order to provide our Quiz service and to provide a psychometric driven risk score to our Customers, who have requested that you take one of our Quizzes as a part of their credit assessment processes:

The data we collect is as follows:

Quiz answer data: The Quiz is an interactive online platform that is designed to collect psychometric data in the form of your answers to the questions that we ask in the Quiz. All answers are collected and stored in our database and are used to calculate risk scores and to build new statistical propensity models.

Cookies: Cookies are small text files that are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website. Coremetrix employs 2 primary types of cookies:

First party cookies: these are served directly by Coremetrix to your computer/mobile device

Third-party cookies: these are served by a third party (Google Analytics) on Coremetrix' behalf. We use third-party cookies for web analytics to optimise our website performance and to provide insights into Quiz usage.

For further information on Cookies see our Cookie Policy.

What personal data is provided to us about you?

The only personal data provided to us about you by our Clients is the PUID and Credit performance data (see detailed explanation below). Our Clients are Banks, Lenders and Insurance companies who use our Quiz assessment tool and statistical propensity models to assist in their credit decisioning/insurance decisioning processes.

The data provided to us is as follows:

PUID (Persistent Unique Identifier): This is a unique alphanumeric string created by our clients in order to identify you in place of other personal data. This is a type of pseudonymous data that is an excellent way of protecting your personal data, which remains held by the Bank/Lender/Insurer who you use. Coremetrix cannot trace this PUID to you or any other individual but use the PUID as a way of tracking the answers to our Quiz and to provide a score to our Clients.

Credit Product Performance data: When a Client engages our services to develop a custom risk assessment tool, they will ask us to carry out a validation against their known credit performance. To carry out this activity our Clients will share with us pseudonymized and simplified Credit Product Performance data using the PUID outlined above and a simplified measurement of how any credit products have performed.

This data is used to both validate existing models and to develop new statistical propensity models.

Credit Bureau data: Some Clients are Credit Bureaus operating in many countries around the world. Coremetrix develops customized credit assessment tools for these bureaus in order to enhance financial inclusion and enable access to credit.

In order to develop these tools Credit Bureau data is shared with Coremetrix using the same pseudonymisation method outlined above to protect individual's personal data.

Data controllers

Coremetrix operate as a Data Processor under the instructions of our Clients who are the Data Controller of their Customers' data.
